

January 12, 2012

To Whom It May Concern:

At the current time, Congress has not extended the IRS Section 25c tax credit that expired December 31, 2011.

The tax credit, which had been used for energy-saving measures such as insulation upgrades, may be reintroduced in 2012.

If the credits are authorized for 2012, NCFI will post the credit forms on this web site.